Task

Your town is organizing a festival of young people's startups that are aimed at shaping a better future world. A young people's magazine has asked you to visit the festival and write a review.

The review must contain:

- introduction
- description of the most surprising futuristic startup
- explanation of what makes it unique
- reflections on the impact of the startup on society in years to come
- possible challenges faced by young startups
- quotes from two visitors to the festival about the startups
- personal feelings about whether such festivals are important for young people.

Write 200-250 words. Provide the title.
